

RIOTING RESUMED AT EL PASO BRIDGE

By Telegram to The Freeman.
El Paso, Tex., Jan. 29.—Anti-American riots were resumed in Juarez today and resulted in Company A, 23rd U. S. Infantry, charging a wild mob of Mexicans who attempted to rush across the International bridge in defiance of American quarantine regulations. After a brief battle on the narrow structure bridging the Rio Grande, the Mexicans were driven back on the Juarez side. News of the fighting spread rapidly throughout El Paso and Juarez and within a few minutes crowds numbering several hundred gathered on each side of the bridge, near the American and Mexican customs houses.

Battled in their attempt to invade, the Mexicans turned their attention to the street cars that had crossed into Juarez from the American side. The street car company ordered all cars stopped at the international bridge. American troops are driving spectators back from the El Paso end of the international bridge, fearing that angry Mexicans in the mob across the river may open fire.

In the fighting on the bridge Sergeant Peck of Company A, was knocked unconscious by a bottle hurled by a Mexican; Roy Schuyler, American customs officer, was struck by a paving stone and seriously hurt. Mexican women employed in El Paso and living in Juarez, started today's disturbance. They marched across the bridge in close formation and swung into a run as they neared the American side of the bridge. Quarantine officers and a number of soldiers threw them back. The women fought like tigers, screaming and cursing. Thirty or forty women cornered two infantrymen and attempted to rush them off the bridge but fell back when the soldiers threatened to shoot.

Crowds of Mexican men, employed as laborers on the American side, joined the band of Amazons with their gay-colored mantillas. The mob formed again and rushed toward the American end of the bridge. By this time the infantrymen had been reinforced and easily repelled them.

Other troops were ordered to the river bank at once. The police took special precautions to prevent an uprising among El Paso's thousands of Mexicans who live largely in adobe huts near the bank of the Rio Grande.

No shots were fired during this morning's rioting but rocks and bottles were hurled.

Fear is felt here for the safety of a large party of American Mormon refugees who reached Juarez last night and were forced to spend the night there because it was impossible for them to comply with the quarantine regulations at once. Only about fifty of the Mormons were permitted to cross during the night.

The American authorities are attempting to get into telephonic communication with a number of other Americans, with business interests in Juarez.

After the fighting had continued for two hours Mexican troops from the Juarez garrison attempted to disperse mobs on the Mexican side but failed. In the melee along the river banks several men and women were pushed into the river. Shortly before noon the military authorities at Juarez asserted that they had the situation well in hand, though hundreds of Mexicans were still gathered at the bridge, cursing the "gringos" and making anti-American demonstrations. Several Mexicans employed in El Paso consented to take the gasoline baths and were permitted to cross. No Americans ventured across the bridge today.

MISS CAMILLE McBEATH, SPONSOR, SECY OF NAVY DANIELS & GOV F. G. BILBO OF MISSISSIPPI. BELOW—U. S. MISSISSIPPI AFTER LAUNCHING.

As 15,000 spectators cheered, the superdreadnought Mississippi, third naval ship to be named after that state, was launched at Newport News, Va., on January 25. This giant superdreadnought, almost identical in design with the Pennsylvania and the Arizona, will have a speed of twenty-one knots and will displace 33,000 tons. Her main armament will consist of twelve 14-inch guns of larger than usual calibre. Hence, longer range and "hitting power." Besides her secondary armament, she will carry three anti-aircraft rifles and four 24-inch torpedo tubes.

HAS DEUTSCHLAND BEEN CAPTURED?

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Jan. 29.—Grave fears were felt here today that the Deutschland has been captured or sunk on the third trans-Atlantic journey to the United States. The merchant submarine is known to have left Bremen on January 2, and for more than a week her arrival at some North Atlantic port, presumably New London, had been expected hourly. She is seven days overdue.

Officials of the Eastern Forwarding Company, who handle the Deutschland's affairs on this side, went to New London more than a week ago for her arrival. They have returned to New York.

Fears that something has happened to the doughty little submarine were accentuated by reports brought here on incoming steamers that she has been captured by a British light cruiser and taken to the naval dockyard at Pembroke, South Wales. Officers of several steamers said they had received the reports from officers of British destroyers and patrol boats in the North Sea and off the Irish coast.

MANNERCHOR BALL HELD TONIGHT

The annual masquerade ball of the Rondout Social Mannerchor will be held this evening at the state armory, and a good time is assured all who attend. Every effort has been made to make the ball the most successful ever held by the organization.

John Sinnott, proprietor of the Central Hotel, Saugerties, died at his home Saturday morning, aged 55 years. He is survived by a wife, four daughters, two sons and one sister. The funeral will be held Tuesday, January 30, in St. Mary's Church, at 10 a. m. Interment in St. Mary's cemetery.

The funeral of the late George B. Joy of Saugerties was held from his late residence, Main street, on Sunday afternoon. The Rev. F. M. Turndine of the M. E. Church officiated. North American Lodge, No. 115, K. of P., conducted the service at the grave. Interment was in Mountain View cemetery.

Franklin Fuller died at his home on Clermont street, Saugerties, on Saturday morning after a lingering illness, aged 77 years 7 months. He was a member of Confidence Lodge, No. 51, I. O. O. F., for a number of years and had served as noble grand and chaplain. Mr. Fuller leaves a wife and two sons, Judson and Ferris. Notice of funeral hereafter.

Frank Hirt, who has been a resident of this city and well known here, died at the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs. C. Borho, after a long illness. Mr. Hirt was a member of St. Peter's Church and St. Peter's Holy Name Society, also a member of the First German Sick and Aid Society. Funeral will be held from the home of his sister-in-law, No. 139 Spring street, Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock and from St. Peter's Church at 9:30. Interment in St. Peter's cemetery.

Elizabeth Harvey, widow of Thomas W. Smith, died at her home, 55 Hudson street, Saturday evening, after a long illness, aged 71 years. Mrs. Smith was a respected resident of this city and a faithful member of the Church of the Holy Spirit. She is survived by three sons, Robert J. Thomas H., and Harvey J. Smith. The funeral will be held from her late home, No. 55 Hudson street, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and from the Church of the Holy Spirit at 2:30. Interment will be in Montrose cemetery.

Frederick A. Keener, superintendent of the Mountain View cemetery, died at his home on Market street, Saugerties, on Friday evening from a stroke of apoplexy, with which he was stricken on Tuesday afternoon. He is survived by a wife, three daughters and one son; a sister, Mrs. Joseph Frazer of Glasco, and a brother, William of Saugerties. The funeral was held from his late residence this afternoon under the auspices of Ulster Lodge, I. O. O. F., of which he had been a member for a number of years. The interment was in Mountain View cemetery.

CHESS CHAMPION AT KINGSTON CLUB

Frank J. Marshall, chess champion of the United States, paid a visit to the Kingston Club Saturday evening and gave an illustrated lecture on chess playing, using one of his own games with the Cuban champion, Capablanca, as a basis. Mr. Marshall makes no specialty of what is called blindfold playing, but consented to play one game without seeing the board. His opponent was Judge John G. Van Etten, one of the best players of the club, but who made a slip on his eleventh move, of which his antagonist took advantage. The game ran as follows:

Jeffersonian League to Meet.

A meeting of the Jeffersonian League will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the office of William C. DeWitt on Fair street when further plans will be made in regard to the newly formed league. Definite plans will be formed for the opening of the new club rooms which will be opened within a few days and the matter of electing officers will be discussed. The club rooms of the League will be opened about the first of February and will be in charge of Michael A. Meagher who will act as custodian and manager for the league.

Rev. Stephen Merritt Dead.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Jan. 29.—Rev. Stephen Merritt, 84, who conducted the funeral ceremonies of more than 600 other living ministers, is dead at his home here today. Rev. Merritt conducted the funerals of President Grant, Daniel Webster, General William Jenkins Worth and Commander Booth Tucker of the Salvation Army. He lost his eyesight but maintained his activity up to the time of his death. He was at one time dean of the Bowery Mission.

Divorce was Refused.

The Poughkeepsie Star states that on Saturday Judge Marchant refused to grant a divorce to Jesse C. McEvoy of Kingston against his wife, Mrs. McEvoy. A chauffeur by the name of S. E. Snyder told of a number of acts of the defendant, but these were not sufficient for the court to entertain the motion for an interlocutory decree, but told William D. Brinnier, who represented Mrs. McEvoy, that he would hold the case open for him to present stronger evidence.

Van Makes a Purchase.

BRITISH CRUISER LAURENTIC LOST

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Jan. 29.—Fears were expressed today that heavy loss of life attended the destruction of the British auxiliary cruiser Laurotic off the Irish coast by a mine or torpedo. The Laurotic, a steamship of 14,892 tons, went to the bottom on Thursday. Only 12 officers and 199 members of the crew were saved, indicating that it torpedoed, the vessel may have been attacked without warning.

The naval reserve crew of the Laurotic was said unofficially to be in the neighborhood of 300 men. Her commander, Captain Reginald Norton, was saved.

GILBOA TO MEET FATE OF ASHOKAN

Deep Water Will Cover Village Which is Part of Proposed Site for Schoharie Adjunct to New York Water Supply System.

As the days go by it becomes more evident that New York city is going to drown Gilboa out, says the Catskill Mountain News. Members of the New York board of water supply are making frequent visits to the place and while they are not giving out anything definite regarding the matter, yet that body is busy all the time in making and approving plans that mean the town's ultimate destruction. Last Friday in their New York office the plans for the construction of the tunnel were approved and as was given out some time ago the contract for this work will be let in the spring. The villagers have felt a certain sense of security against the coming of the dam for it has been stated repeatedly that work on the tunnel would be in progress for at least two years before any active work on the dam would be begun. Now comes the announcement that both contracts would be let together as the city was desirous to get the work started as soon as possible. A corps of surveyors are working in the village surveying out each piece of property so that when the city gets ready to begin buying there will be no delay occasioned as to boundaries and will know just how much real estate is owned by each individual. At Grand Gorge and Stamford employees and members of the water supply board are either renting houses or building them so as to be near the construction work and give it their personal supervision as to its being done as the contract will call for. The final soundings for the dam, it is said, will be completed by the first of April, which it is thought will be about the time that the contracts will be let.

The tunnel starts in on the Patsch farm and it is said will take 25 acres of the meadow land, 80 acres of pasture and 10 acres of the wood land. This farm contains better than 200 acres and after the city takes what it wants for the tunnel, it is left with not be of much value to anyone. In the village the dam will take all below the iron bridge by the creamery for half a mile as well as the village itself, depriving all told more than 75 families of their homes. Not a vestige of Gilboa as it is now will be left. Where now is a neat thrifty village will be a broad expanse of water, and as the visitor comes to view the handling of man there will be nothing left to tell him that this was once a populous place where good people lived in perfect contentment and were happy in the exchange of fellowship which every community has. There has been and there is still some talk of building a new Gilboa but the expression of nearly all who will have to get out is that if they do have to go they are going to some place where they will never be molested again. Where this will be none of them as yet have the slightest idea. They simply say that in this great big world there must be a place for them.

CLINIC TO BE HELD.

Another Infantile Paralysis Clinic February 27.

Arrangements are being completed for holding another infantile paralysis clinic in this city on February 27. It will be held in the county laboratory on John street under the auspices of the state board of health. The local health board will assist. This clinic will be held for the purpose of showing the after care of cases.

Short Weight in Brains.

Although the Rev. Hough Houston pastor of Trinity M. E. Church of Poughkeepsie, and a former pastor of St. James's M. E. Church in this city, repudiates any claim to being considered an authority on the subject, he gave it as his opinion answering the question, "What is meant by love at first sight?" that it is an indication of short weight in brains, at the Sunday evening service in his church.

Stamped Envelopes Higher.

The postoffice department has advanced the prices of stamped envelopes, the advances in the various grades and sizes running from 32 to 66 cents a thousand. On the No. 5, plain, the advance is 32 cents; printed, 36 cents.

25,000 GUARDSMEN COMING HOME SOON

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Jan. 29.—Within a week, or just as soon as General Pershing's command is back on United States territory, another large group of militia, probably 25,000, will be ordered home for muster out. The return of the present 25,000 to their home bases will be completed by February 20. It was learned at the war department today, and meanwhile there will be no loss of time in releasing other units which have been on the border as a support to the Pershing column.

WILLIAM DONOVAN GORED BY BULL

Exciting Time on Island Dock Late Saturday Afternoon—Angry Bull Runs Amuck and is Finally Shot.

William Donovan, a young man of this city, is confined to the Benedictine Sanitarium with a broken rib and other injuries sustained late Saturday afternoon when he was gored by a bull that had run amuck. The bull was finally shot.

The bull came from Dutchess county and was being led by two men up Hasbrouck avenue shortly after 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon on the way to the slaughter house. It is thought that when the animal was near the slaughter house it got a whiff of blood which caused it to suddenly break loose from the two men and turn and gallop down Hasbrouck avenue.

The staunch craft Skillypot lay in its berth on the Rondout side of the creek and was just preparing to plough its way through the ice to Sleightsburgh when the bull galloped on board. The bull proceeded to chase the crew and passengers into the cabins and when it had the deck to itself it turned around and walked off the ferry and started down Ferry street toward the Island Dock.

Evidently when opposite the Island Dock it spied the big red boiler and leaping down on the lee the bull crossed to the dock. Near the boat yard of Bernard Donovan stood a sleigh and horse. In the sleigh was young Donovan and a young man. As the bull headed toward the sleigh with lowered head young Donovan grasped the whip and leaped from the sleigh with the evident intention of protecting the horse from the onslaught of the bull. The young man was not quick enough to get out of the way of the bull and was lifted up on the animal's horns and hurled some distance.

By this time nearly a thousand people had gathered along the creek shore to watch the thrilling episode. The bull proceeded to trample every one on the Island Dock and the workmen sought safety on a boat.

Young Donovan was picked up and word was sent to police headquarters for a physician and Sergeant Hanley and Simon Wood, who were in the vicinity, hurried to the scene. The injured man was placed in the sleigh and hurried to Dr. Quinlan's office, near the city hall, and was later removed to the Benedictine Sanitarium.

The trusty rifle owned by the police department was brought to the scene and at the earnest request of Mr. Koubout, an employee on the boatyard, who is a noted hunter, was turned over to him and he fired four times and the animal sank to the ground and Koubout pumped another charge into the carcass.

The gun was loaded with buckshot, and Koubout took pains in shooting the animal that no flying bullets hit any of the large crowd of spectators who lined the shore.

With the death of the bull the crowd dispersed and peace and quietness reigned again in the lower section of the city.

It is fortunate in many respects that the bull did not take it into his head to gallop up Broadway or more people might have been injured.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 29.—Racing at Juarez is off for the rest of the winter, it was announced today. U. S. health officials have declared a quarantine against the Mexican side of many Juarez residents to take fumigating baths before crossing the border. Five hundred Mexican women yesterday mobbed cars in Juarez because they were refused entrance following their failure to submit to disinfection.

Americans were warned to remain away from Juarez today and Carranza troops were patrolling every street of the border town as the result of Sunday's rioting when a mob of Mexican women attacked street cars and Americans.

Groups of women appeared on the streets early but were dispersed by the soldiers.

Carranza officials declared there will be no trouble but also asked the American authorities to react to the quarantine regulation at the El Paso end of the international bridge that because of an order requiring all Mexicans of unclean appearance to submit to gasoline bath before entering El Paso.

No such Amazonian demonstration has occurred in Juarez since 1912 when a woman bandit, Col. Carmen Valdez, with a small group of followers, captured the city. The Carranza soldiers were powerless yesterday against the women, fearing serious trouble if they fired into the crowds.

RIOTING RESUMED AT EL PASO BRIDGE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 29.—Anti-American riots resumed in Juarez today and resulted in Company A, 23rd U. S. Infantry, charging a wild mob of Mexicans who attempted to rush across the international bridge in defiance of American quarantine regulations. After a brief battle on the narrow structure bridging the Rio Grande, the Mexicans were driven back on the Juarez side. News of the fighting spread rapidly throughout El Paso and Juarez and within a few minutes crowds numbering several hundred gathered on each side of the bridge, near the American and Mexican customs houses.

Battled in their attempt to invade, the Mexicans turned their attention to the street cars that had crossed into Juarez from the American side. The street car company ordered all cars stopped at the international bridge. American troops are driving spotters back from the El Paso end of the international bridge, fearing that angry Mexicans in the mob across the river may open fire. In the fighting on the bridge, Sergeant Peck of Company A, was hurled unconscious by a bottle thrown by a Mexican; Roy Schuyler, American customs officer, was struck by a paving stone and seriously hurt. Mexican women employed in El Paso and living in Juarez started today's disturbances. They marched across the bridge in close formation and swung into a run as they reached the American side of the bridge. Quarantine officers and a number of soldiers threw them back. The women fought like tigers, screaming and cursing. Thirty or forty women cornered two infantrymen and attempted to rush them off the bridge but fell back when the soldiers threatened to shoot.

Crowds of Mexican men, employed as laborers on the American side, joined the band of Amazons with their gay-colored mantillas. The mob forced again and rushed toward the American end of the bridge. At this time the infantrymen had been reinforced and easily repelled them. Other troops were ordered to the river bank at once. The police took special precautions to prevent an uprising among El Paso's thousands of Mexicans who live largely in adobe huts near the bank of the Rio Grande.

No shots were fired during this morning's rioting but rocks and bottles were hurled. Fear is felt here for the safety of a large party of American Mormon refugees who reached Juarez last night and were forced to spend the night there because it was impossible for them to comply with the quarantine regulations at once. Only about fifty of the Mormons were permitted to cross during the night.

The American authorities are attempting to get into telephonic communication with a number of other Americans with business interests in Juarez. After the fighting had continued for two hours Mexican troops from the Juarez garrison attempted to disperse mobs on the Mexican side but failed. In the melee along the river banks several men and women were pushed into the river. Shortly before noon the military authorities at Juarez asserted that they had the situation well in hand, though hundreds of Mexicans were still gathered at the bridge, cursing the "Gringos" and making anti-American demonstrations. Several Mexicans employed in El Paso consented to take the gasoline baths and were permitted to cross. No Americans ventured across the bridge today.

MISS CAMILLE McBEATH, SPONSOR; SECY. OF NAVY DANIELS & GOV. F. G. BILBO OF MISSISSIPPI. BELOW—U. S. S. MISSISSIPPI AFTER LAUNCHING.

As 15,000 spectators cheered, the superdreadnaught Mississippi, third naval ship to be named after that state, was launched at Newport News, Va., on January 25. This giant superdreadnaught, almost identical in design with the Pennsylvania and the Arizona, will have a speed of twenty-one knots and will displace 33,000 tons. Her main armament will consist of twelve 14-inch guns of larger than usual calibre. Hence, longer range and "hitting power." Besides her secondary armament, she will carry three anti-aircraft rifles and four 24-inch torpedo tubes.

HAS DEUTSCHLAND BEEN CAPTURED?

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Jan. 29.—Grave fears were felt here today that the Deutschland had been captured or sunk on the third trans-Atlantic journey to the United States. The merchant submarine is known to have left Bremen on January 2, and for more than a week her arrival at some North Atlantic port, presumably New London, had been expected hourly. She is seven days overdue.

Officials of the Eastern Forwarding Company, who handle the Deutschland's affairs on this side, want to know London where the ship went to.

Week ago for her arrival. They have returned to New York. Fears that something has happened to the doughty little submarine were accentuated by reports brought here of incoming steamers that she has been captured by a British light cruiser and taken to the naval dockyard at Pembroke, South Wales. Officers of several steamers said they had received the reports from officers of British destroyers and patrol boats in the North Sea and off the Irish coast.

CHAINS ENFORCED PEACE.

Early History of Lake Mohonk Related by Eli Stokes.

Eli Stokes dropped in the other day for a little chat and to pay for his paper says the New Paltz Independent. One of the things we like to talk with him about is Mohonk as it was before the day of the Smileys, when his father John F. Stokes had the property. We remember, very well, ourself, the "opening" of the Mohonk house in 1858, but Eli has added something to our recollection. It was on the 4th of July, John F. Stokes, had put up the building but it was not quite finished. There was a great crowd at the opening. The Kerhonkson Brass Band was there. The only road was along the top of the mountain from what is now Mountain Rest. The editor of the Independent had his first visit to the lake with his father and younger brother. There were no 4th of July speeches but there was excitement enough for whiskey flowed freely. There was a real, genuine fight between two residents of the neighborhood. When they were parted they were taken back of the house and each chained to a tree.

CHESS CHAMPION AT KINGSTON CLUB

Frank J. Marshall, chess champion of the United States, paid a visit to the Kingston Club Saturday evening and gave an illustrated lecture on chess playing, using one of his own games with the Cuban champion, Capablanca, as a basis. Mr. Marshall makes no specialty of what is called blindfold playing, but consented to play one game without seeing the board. His opponent was Judge John C. Van Elten, one of the best players of the club, but who made a slip on his eleventh move, of which his antagonist took advantage. The game ran as follows:

Rev. Stephen Merritt Dead.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Jan. 29.—Rev. Stephen Merritt, 84, who conducted the funeral ceremonies of more great men than any other living minister, died at his home here today. Rev. Merritt conducted the funerals of President Grant, Daniel Webster, General William Jackson Worth and Commander Booth Tucker of the Salvation Army. He has been actively up to the time of his death. He was at one time dean of the Bowery Mission.

Divorce was Refused.

The Poughkeepsie Star states that on Saturday Judge Morschauer refused to grant a divorce to Jessie C. McEvoy of Kingston against her husband, Anthony F. McEvoy. The judge found in favor of the defendant, but these were not sufficient for the court to entertain the motion for an interlocutory decree, but told William D. Brinnier, who represented Mrs. McEvoy, that he would hold the case open for him to present stronger evidence.

BRITISH CRUISER LAURENTIC LOST

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, Jan. 29.—Fears were expressed today that heavy loss of life attended the destruction of the British auxiliary cruiser Laudentic off the Irish coast by a mine or torpedo. The Laudentic, a steamship of 14,892 tons, went to the bottom on Thursday. Only 12 officers and 193 members of the crew were saved, indicating that, if torpedoed, the vessel may have been attacked without warning. The naval reserve crew of the Laudentic was said unofficially to be in the neighborhood of 300 men. Her commander, Captain Reginald Norton, was saved.

GILBOA TO MEET FATE OF ASHOKAN

Deep Water Will Cover Village Which is Part of Proposed Site for Schoharie Adjunct to New York Water Supply System.

As the days go by it becomes more evident that New York city is going to drown Gilboa out, says the Catskill Mountain News. Members of the New York board of water supply are making frequent visits to the place and while they are not giving out anything definite regarding the matter, yet that body is busy all the time in making and approving plans that mean the town's ultimate destruction. Last Friday in their New York office the plans for the construction of the tunnel were approved of and as was given out some time ago the contract for this work will be let in the spring. The villagers have felt a certain sense of security against the coming of the dam for it has been stated repeatedly that work on the tunnel would be in progress for at least two years before any active work on the dam would be begun. Now comes the announcement that both contracts would be let together as the city was desirous to get the work started as soon as possible. A corps of surveyors are working in the village surveying out each place of property so that when the city gets ready to begin laying there will be no delay occasioned as to boundaries and will know just how much real estate is owned by each individual. At Grand Gorge and Stamford employees and members of the water supply board are busy making plans of building them so as to be near the construction work and give it their personal supervision as to its being done as the contract will call for. The final soundings for the dam, it is said, will be completed by the first of April, which it is thought will be about the time that the contracts will be let.

The tunnel starts in on the Patchin farm and it is said will take 35 acres of the meadow land, 80 acres of pasture and 10 acres of the wood land. This farm contains a better than 200 acres, and after the city takes what it wants for the tunnel what is left will not be of much value to anyone. In the village the dam will take all below the iron bridge by the creamery for half a mile as well as the village itself, deriving all told more than 75 families of their homes. Not a vestige of Gilboa as it is now will be left. Where now is a neat thrifty village will be a broad expanse of water, and as the visitor comes to view the handiwork of man there will be nothing left to tell him that this was once a populous place where good people lived in perfect contentment and were happy in the exchange of fellowship which every community has. There has been and there is still some talk of building a new Gilboa but the expression of nearly all who will have to get out is that if they do have to go they are going to some place where they will never be molested again. Where this will be none of them as yet have the slightest idea. They simply say that in this great big world there must be a place for them.

CLINIC TO BE HELD.

February 27.

Another Infantile Paralysis Clinic.

Arrangements are being completed for holding another infantile paralysis clinic in this city on February 27. It will be held in the county laboratory on John street under the auspices of the state board of health. The local health board will assist. This clinic will be held for the purpose of showing the after care of cases.

Short Weight in Brains.

Although the Rev. Hough Houston pastor of Trinity M. E. Church of Poughkeepsie, and a former pastor of St. James's M. E. Church in this city, repudiates any claim to being considered an authority on the subject, he gave it as his opinion answering the question, "What is meant by love at first sight?" that it is an indication of short weight in brains, at the Sunday evening service in his church.

Stamped Envelopes Higher.

The postoffice department has advanced the prices of stamped envelopes, the advances in the various grades and sizes running from 32 to 66 cents a thousand. On the No. 3, printed, the advance is 32 cents; plain, 36 cents.

25,000 GUARDSMEN COMING HOME SOON

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Jan. 29.—Within a week, or just as soon as General Pershing's command is back on United States territory, another large group of militia, probably 25,000, will be ordered home for muster out. The return of the present 25,000 to their home bases will be completed by February 20, it was learned at the war department today, and meanwhile there will be no loss of time in releasing other units which have been on the border as a support to the Pershing column.

WILLIAM DONOVAN GORED BY BULL

Exciting Time on Island Dock Late Saturday Afternoon—Angry Bull Runs Amuck and is Finally Shot.

William Donovan, a young man of this city, is confined to the Benedictine Sanitarium with a broken rib and other injuries sustained late Saturday afternoon when he was gored by a bull that had run amuck. The bull was finally shot.

The bull came from Dutchess county and was being led by two men up Hasbrouck avenue shortly after 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon on the way to the slaughter house. It is thought that when the animal was near the slaughter house it got a whiff of blood which caused it to suddenly break loose from the two men and turn and gallop down Hasbrouck avenue.

The slaughter craft Skillypot lay in its berth on the Rondout side of the creek and was just preparing to plough its way through the ice to Slightsburg when the bull galloped on board. The bull proceeded to chase the crew and passengers into the cabins and when it had the deck to itself it turned around and walked off the ferry and started down Ferry street toward the Island Dock. Evidently when opposite the Island Dock it spied the big red boiler and leaping down on the boiler the bull crossed to the dock. Near the boat yard of Bernard Donovan stood a sleigh and horse. In the sleigh was young Donovan and a young man. As the bull headed toward the sleigh with unwieldy head young Donovan grasped the whip and leapt from the sleigh with the evident intention of protecting the horse from the onslaught of the bull. The young man was not quick enough to get out of the way of the bull and was lifted up on the animal's horns and buried some distance.

By this time nearly a thousand people had gathered along the creek shore to watch the thrilling episode. The bull proceeded to tree every one on the Island Dock and the workmen sought safety on a boat.

Young Donovan was picked up and word was sent to police headquarters for a physician and Sergeant Hanley and Simon Wood, who were in the vicinity, hurried to the scene. The injured man was placed in the sleigh and hurried to Dr. Quinlan's office, near the city hall, and was later removed to the Benedictine Sanitarium.

The sleigh ride owned by the police department was brought to the scene and at the earnest request of Dr. Koubout, an employee on the boardway, who is a noted hunter, was turned over to him and he advanced toward the bull. He fired four times and the animal sank to the ground and Koubout pumped another charge into the carcass. The gun was loaded with buckshot, and Koubout took pains in shooting the animal that no flying bullets hit any of the large crowd of spectators who lined the shore. With the death of the bull the crowd dispersed and peace and quietness reigned again in the lower section of the city.

It is fortunate in many respects that the bull did not take it into his head to gallop up Broadway or more people might have been injured.

STREET GOSSIP ABOUT TOWN

"What have you got there?" asked the street corner politician of his friend who was examining something bright and shiny which he held in his hand.

"That's one of the new quarters just gotten out by the government," replied the friend, passing the twenty-five cent piece to the politician for his inspection.

"M-m," said the politician as he turned the coin over in his hand.

"What do you think of it?" queried the friend.

"Too fussy for me," replied the politician.

"What do you mean?" asked the friend.

"I like the old style best," replied the politician as he passed the coin back to his friend.

"What do you mean by fussy?" persisted the friend.

"Well," replied the politician, "I don't like the design in the first place. It reminds me too much of checks I have seen thrown around by advertising concerns."

"What else?" queried the friend.

"Then I don't like the appearance of the flying bird," continued the politician.

"That's an eagle," said the friend.

"I thought," retorted the politician, "I thought it represented Billy Bryan's dove of peace."

"The only reason you don't like it," argued the friend, "is because it's something new."

"No, I am in favor of new things," retorted the politician, "provided they are as good as the old."

"Well, the value of the coin remains unchanged," commented the friend.

"Sure, but you can't buy as much with it as you can with the old style quarters," said the politician.

"How is that?" asked the friend.

"On account of the war," replied the politician with a smile.

"How do you figure that out?" asked the friend.

"Well," said the politician thoughtfully, "when I first thought of the big war I said to myself it is all right as long as they don't drag us into it. The only trouble is that we are being hit by the war too."

"Hit by the war, what do you mean?" queried the friend.

"Sure, we are getting hit indirectly," replied the politician. "I went to buy a magazine that I always read and read an announcement in it that the next number would cost twenty cents, an advance of five cents in the price, due to the big advance in the price of print paper. Then I glanced over the counter where the five-cent novels lay which I used to read a few years ago and by gosh they have jumped a cent in price."

"Well, you don't have to read do you?" retorted the friend.

"No, I don't," replied the politician. "But then when I glanced over my wife's grocery bill I found that everything noted in it had advanced in price, all due to it was claimed to the war in Europe."

"I have found that out too," said the friend sadly.

"Then I looked at my coal bill, and that had jumped too in price," continued the politician, "and when I sat down to figure it out I found that 'owing to the war' in Europe everything I used had been jumped in price."

"You are right," commented the friend.

"That's why I said you could not buy as much with the new quarters as with the old style ones," concluded the politician.

"But I still contend the new quarters are handsomer than the others," argued the friend.

"Well, I'll admit the flying eagle is emblematic," said the politician. "What do you mean by that?" queried the friend.

"Why symbolize the fact that everything is going up?" retorted the politician with a smile.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

A Dress of Dignified Simplicity.

Waist 1858--Skirt 1853--Comprising Ladies' Waist Pattern 1858, and Ladies' Skirt 1853.

Gardiner in a pretty shade of gray was used in this instance, with trimming of striped silk and facings of matched satin. The waist closes at the left side front and is cut with deep neck opening. The sleeve may be finished in bishop style, with a wrist cuff, or in short length, with a shaped flare cuff. The skirt is full over the back under a novel belt yoke that forms a shaped tab at the sides. The Waist Pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. The skirt in 6 sizes: 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32 inches waist measure. To make the entire dress for a medium size will require 6 1/2 yards of 28-inch material. The skirt measures about 3 yards at the foot.

This illustration calls for two separate patterns, which will be mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents FOR EACH pattern in silver or stamps by The Freeman Pattern Department. Be sure to state size wanted.

SAUGERTIES

Saugerties, Jan. 29.—The wedding of Miss Mary Moran and John Sangulyn took place at the Catholic Church, Glasco on Sunday afternoon, Rev. J. Talbot officiating.

Work at H. T. Keeney's ice house at Ulster Landing began today.

Mrs. Rutus Randall and children of New York city are guests of her sister, Mrs. James T. Maxwell on Market street.

Miss Bertha Russell of First street is visiting in Yonkers, N. Y.

The Misses Edith Rickerson and Pauline Comfort of Livingston street leave Tuesday for a visit with relatives in Philadelphia.

The ice house of Bennett and Walsh on the lower Esopus Creek will be filled on Wednesday with an extra fine quality of ice ranging from ten to thirteen inches.

Floyd G. Lewis of Elm street spent Sunday with his family in Kingston.

William Persons is seriously ill at his home on Main street.

Miss Edna Gillespie of the New York Telephone Company force is spending the week in New York city.

The Orpheum Theater on Main street, owned by the John C. Davis estate, has been leased by Peter Bekeros of Highland Falls.

Frank Myer of Market street has purchased the bungalow formerly owned by Frank Babcock on Upper Market street.

D. G. Chancellor Ohley and staff will install the officers in Wallkill Lodge, K. of P., New Paltz on Tuesday evening, Jan. 30.

Lewis, captain; John Perks, first lieutenant; Charles Miller, second lieutenant; Charles Holsapple, first sergeant; George MacClary, second sergeant; George Yorke, quartermaster; Gayton Miller, chaplain; Albert Shear, recorder; Edward Kroat, treasurer.

St. John's News.

Friday being the Feast of the Purification, there will be a celebration of the holy communion at St. John's Church at 10 o'clock.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon there was held at the Church of the Holy Spirit the first of a series of Mission Study Classes for the members of the Woman's Auxiliary of the three Episcopal Churches in this city.

Holy Spirit, Holy Cross and St. John's. Miss Ellen I. Flanders, diocesan educational secretary, will give the instruction, and there will be two of the weekly classes held at each of the churches. It is hoped that as many of the women as possible will attend these classes.

An important meeting of the Parish Aid Society will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 at the parish house. Arrangements will then be made for the coming dinner at the parish house to be held on Friday, February 16. The tickets for the dinner are now ready for sale, and Miss Helen Westbrook has charge of the same. All persons in the church willing to aid in the sale of tickets are asked to see Miss Westbrook, and those wishing to purchase tickets may at present secure the same from her.

Tuesday evening those boys wishing to join or already members of the Boy Scouts will meet with Mr. Larned at the parish house at 7:30 o'clock.

On Sunday morning, at the regular morning service, Mr. Wainwright, chairman of this church pension fund for this diocese outside New York city, explained to the congregation the plan of the fund, which was started by the Right Rev. William Lawrence, Bishop of Massachusetts. This plan has been put into operation in the Episcopal Church in this country to increase the efficiency of the clergy by relieving them of anxiety as to an uncertain old age, and is a thoroughly business proposition founded upon justice and not charity. Following the lead of all other big organizations the church will, hereafter, its members being willing and helpful, provide a proper pension for retired clergy over the age of 65 years, the same not to exceed 50 per cent of their salaries, within a minimum of $600 and a maximum of $2,000. Or during disability a clergyman will receive annually a sum of 40 per cent of the average of his salary for the preceding five years. Furthermore in case of death, his widow or minor children will be properly cared for until such time as the children are no longer dependent. All of this plan has been scientifically worked out by Robert Henderson, chief actuary, Equitable Life Assurance Society, vice president, Actuarial Society of America, who is the actuary for the fund. While the payment by each parish of 7 per cent of the rector's salary will take care, in this fashion of the young clergymen now starting on their ministerial career, it will not provide for the men who have already served the church and the communities in which they have lived. So in order to provide for them, without any further injustice, it was found necessary to raise an initial reserve fund of $5,000,000. For one year Bishop Lawrence has given up his diocesan work and devoted himself to this effort, which is supported by the general convention of the Episcopal Church, and up to the present time $4,000,000 have been secured. However, much of this sum was pledged by the understanding that the entire amount be raised not later than March 1, 1917. Now in order to raise this last million dollars—and this sum will never again have to be raised—all of the people of all of the parishes have been asked to make such contributions as they can afford before the first of March. This is the matter in brief as explained by Mr. Wainwright, and announcement will be made in a very short time as to the manner in which St. John's will give its share toward doing the right that it, like all other churches, preaches.

COUNTRESS OLGA MOSCHINI.
VATICAN REFUSES TO ANNUL MOSCHINI MARRIAGE.
Rome, Jan. 29.—The Vatican Court of Cassation has decided that the marriage of Count Victor Moschini to Miss Olga Lulu Davis, of Fort Worth, Tex., was valid.
The petition for annulment asked by the husband was rejected. The couple were married in 1910 and reside in Rome.

Western Electric Farm Lighting Plant
This complete, compact little outfit makes electric light just as brilliant and steady as any big city plant. You can have 25 to 50 lights all over the house, barns and outbuildings, and around the grounds. No danger of fire. No lamps to clean and fill. Your gas engine, running a few hours each week, makes all the electricity and stores it in the Hyray-Exide storage battery, all ready to use when needed. Will also run the electric vacuum cleaner and heat the electric iron.
Write for More Light
Let us send you our new booklet, which tells all about the plant and what it will do.

STREET GOSSIP ABOUT TOWN

"What have you got there?" asked the street corner politician of his friend who was examining something bright and shiny which he held in his hand.

"That's one of the new quarters just gotten out by the government," replied the friend, passing the twenty-five cent piece to the politician for his inspection.

"M-m," said the politician as he turned the coin over in his hand.

"What do you think of it?" queried the friend.

"Too fussy for me," replied the politician.

"What do you mean?" asked the friend.

"I like the old style best," replied the politician as he passed the coin back to his friend.

"What do you mean by fussy?" persisted the friend.

"Well," replied the politician, "I don't like the design in the first place. It reminds me too much of checks I have seen thrown around by advertising concerns."

"What else?" queried the friend.

"Then I don't like the appearance of the flying bird," continued the politician.

"That's an eagle," said the friend.

"Is it?" retorted the politician.

"I thought it represented Billy Bryan's dove of peace."

"The only reason you don't like it," argued the friend, "is because it's something new."

"No, I am in favor of new things," retorted the politician.

"Provided they are as good as the old,"

"Well, the value of the coin remains unchanged, comment on that,"

"Sure, but you can't buy as much with it as you can with the old style quarters," said the politician.

"How is that?" asked the friend.

"On account of the war," replied the politician with a smile.

"How do you figure that out?" asked the friend.

"Well," said the politician thoughtfully, "when I first thought of the big war I said to myself it is all right as long as they don't drag us into it. The only trouble is that we are being hit by the war too."

"Hit by the war, what do you mean?" queried the friend.

"Sure, we are getting hit indirectly," replied the politician.

"I want to buy a magazine that I always read and read an announcement in it that the next number would cost twenty cents, an advance of five cents in the price, due to the big advance in the price of print paper."

"Then I glanced over the counter where the five-cent novels lay which I used to read a few years ago and by gosh they have jumped a cent in price."

"Well, you don't have to read do you?" retorted the friend.

"No, I don't," replied the politician.

"But then when I glanced over my wife's grocery bill I found that everything noted in it had advanced in price, all due it was claimed to the war in Europe."

"I have found that out too," said the friend sadly.

"Then I looked at my coal bill, and that had jumped too in price," continued the politician, "and when I sat down to figure it out I found that owing to the war in Europe everything I used had been jumped in price."

"You are right," commented the friend.

"That's why I said you could not buy as much with the new quarters as with the old style ones," concluded the politician.

"But I still contend the new quarters are handsomer than the others," argued the friend.

"Well, I'll admit the fine eagle is emblematic," said the politician.

"What do you mean by that?" queried the friend.

"Why emblematic?" retorted the politician.

"Everything is going to be better," retorted the politician.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

1858. A Dress of Dignified Simplicity. Waist 1858--Skirt 1853--Comprising Ladies' Waist Pattern 1858, and Ladies' Skirt 1853.

Gabardine in a pretty shade of gray was used in this lastage, with trimming of striped silk and facings of matched satin. The waist closes at the left side front and is cut with deep neck opening. The sleeve may be finished in bishop style with a wrist cuff, or in short length, with a shaped flare cuff. The skirt is full over the back under a novel belt yoke that forms a shaped tab at the sides. The Waist Pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. The skirt is cut in 6 sizes: 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32 inches waist measure. To make the entire dress for a medium size will require 6 1/2 yards of 36-inch material. The skirt measures about 3 yards at the foot.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

It is very strange how like men are to one another in some things, though their characters are as different as can be.

CHOICE DISHES.

Try using buttermilk instead of sweet milk for the coffee cake; it will be creamy and of delicious flavor.

Buttermilk for dumplings, using baking powder is also good.

Choice Popovers. Break three eggs into a bowl; add half a teaspoonful of salt and a cupful each of milk and sifted flour. Beat until smooth with a Dorer egg beater. Have ready hot iron, gem pans, well greased, fill the cups two-thirds full with the mixture. Set into a hot oven and bake about 35 minutes. The deeper the cups the more the cakes will puff.

Steamed Fruit Pudding--Sift together one cupful of whole wheat flour, half a cupful of white flour, half a teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of soda and a half a teaspoonful of mace. Beat one egg, add a half cupful of molasses, half a cupful of milk, four tablespoonfuls of melted shortening and a cupful of figs, dates or raisins cut in pieces. Mix all together and turn into a buttered mold. Steam two hours. Serve hot with hard sauce.

Potatoes a la Gail--Cut raw potatoes into the desired size and thickness. Boil for five minutes. Drain off the water and place the potatoes in an earthen baking dish with a little oil, butter, finely cut ham, pepper and salt and grated cheese. Cover and let cook until the potatoes are done.

Apple Tapioca Pudding--Cook a cupful of quick cooking tapioca in boiling salted water until transparent. Core eight to ten apples and set them in a baking dish; fill the centers with cinnamon and sugar, pour over the tapioca and bake until the apples are tender. Serve hot with cream and sugar. The apples may be quartered and placed over the top of the pudding. Peaches, pears or other fruit may be used in place of apples if so desired.

Chocolate cup cakes covered with orange frosting or a chocolate layer cake with an orange filling and frosting is a most delicious combination.

To prevent mayonnaise from curdling, add one teaspoonful of cold water to the egg yolk before beginning to beat it.

REMARKABLE DAY AT TABERNACLE

Sunday Effort to Raise Money to Meet Current Expenses Resulted in $2,500 Being Pledged—$500 More Needed—1,145 Have Hit Trail—Hot Shot.

Sunday was a remarkable day at the Delaware Avenue Tabernacle from the fact that $2,500 was raised by pledges at the three services, and 108 men and women hit the trail, bringing the total number of trail hitters up to 1,145. Those in charge of the financial end of the campaign stated at the close of the Sunday service that about $500 was still needed. None of the money raised Sunday is for Evangelist Peacock, but is to pay the expenses of the evangelistic campaign in building the tabernacle, heat and light, janitor service, entertainment for the evangelistic party, and incidental expenses, amounting in all to about $5,500. With the money pledged Sunday and the money on hand all that is still needed is the sum mentioned. The effort to get the current expenses out of the way was made Sunday so that during the last two weeks of the campaign it would not be necessary to take up collections at every service.

No Services Today.
There will be no service of any kind at the tabernacle today. This evening Evangelist Peacock will speak in "Sauterettes." Services at the tabernacle will be resumed on Tuesday afternoon. At the evening service the P. O. S. of A., the American Mechanics, the Eastern Star and the Rebekahs will attend in a body.

Young Folks' Service.
Wednesday evening will be young folks' night at the tabernacle at which time the high school students and the members of the young peoples' societies of the city will march in a body to the tabernacle. The evangelist will speak on "The White Light." Adults are also urged to attend the services.

Saturday's Hot Shot.
Saturday evening the evangelist delivered his address on amusements, taking as his text Galatians 6:7: "Be not deceived, God is not mocked, for whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap." If you sow cards you reap gamblers; sow saloons and reap drunkards and murderers; sow dances and reap brothels, ruined characters, wrecked lives and damned souls.

Elaborating his theme, the evangelist said that he knew when he said anything about cards that all the card players in town would call him a liar. He told a story of a famous, or infamous, gambler who said he had been taught to play cards by his mother. He said that while he was holding a series of services in a western state a woman came up to him at the close of the service and asked him to pray for her boy. The boy was in a penitentiary. She had taught him to play cards and one night in a card game he had whipped out a gun and shot a companion.

Where Gamblers Are Born.
Gamblers are not born in the gambling den, but in our homes and in our schools and our clubs and our lodges, wherever they first learn to play cards. He rapped church members and others who held card parties and gambled for prizes such as silk stockings and cut glass, setting an example for their children that no one could foretell the outcome of. Women playing for cut glass and other prizes were gamblers just as much as the man in the gambling den.

Where One-Step Came From.
He said that if he should say anything about dancing some people would jump up and say: "Oh, our dances are decent." The most popular dance in the country today is the one-step. This dance was originated in the lowest dive in Paris.

School Average Lower.
The average in our schools was lower today than it was years ago. In the old days children were sent to school to develop the head and not the feet. They went to school to study and not to learn to dance. "What are you paying taxes for?" he asked, "to teach the children to dance and play cards or to get an education?" If the feet are the largest part of your children why go ahead and develop them.

White Slavery.
The dances in our schools in our large cities furnish fruitful soil for the white slave to practice his hellish business. The speaker quoted from the testimony given by a white slave in a New York city case where he stated he had ruined over 3,000 school girls. He had hired engaging young men and dressed them in fine clothes and sent them to the dances held by the schools where they met the school girls and became on friendly terms with them.

Dancing Degrades.
The dancing of the one-step and the other popular dances of the day tends to degrade and does not elevate the morals of our children or of ourselves.

The Nude in Picture.
The evangelist also paid his respects to the picture shows throughout the country and said that they might call the naked woman on the screen art, but for anyone to look at the picture would not tend to create prayer meeting thoughts. "Of course," he said sarcastically, "to the pure all things are pure, of course," and he paused for a minute while the applause and laughter died down. He said that in Chicago fathers had formed an organization to build a moving picture theatre of their own and show decent pictures to their children.

Audience Agrees.
At the close he asked his hearers to do all that they could to wipe out the sins of card playing and dancing, and asked all who were in favor of a cleaner and better city and were in sympathy with what he had said in his address to come forward and shake his hand. Nearly every one in the big building flocked down the aisles to the front and filed by the platform where Mr. Peacock leaning down shook hands with every one who came forward.

Christ's Mission.
At the morning service Sunday, although it was the smallest congregation, it responded most liberally to the appeal to make an effort to get the current expenses out of the way and $1,500 was subscribed. The evangelist at the close preached a short stirring sermon. At the afternoon service he spoke to men only. $500 was raised at that meeting. At the evening service another $500 was pledged. The evangelist preached on the theme that Christ is able to save all, and that His mission to earth was not to condemn, but to save the world.

Up to the People.
If people are not saved it is because they have not believed. If you are shut out of Heaven, don't blame God or the church, but blame yourself for you are lost because you refused to have anything to do with Jesus Christ. He said that God had given ten commandments to man and that nowhere in the Bible does it state that man could break one commandment and obey the others and that he would be saved. All ten commandments were given to be obeyed and the man or woman who was a Sabbath desecrator is as much of a law breaker in the sight of God as if they had violated any of the other commandments.

A New Commandment.
In this day and generation the speaker said it would not be out of the way to suggest another commandment and that was "Thou shalt not commit adultery." The great trouble these days was there was too much familiarity and not enough respect.

Come Back Home.
In closing the evangelist made a strong plea for those who had drifted away from God to come back and consecrate themselves to Him, and if none had accepted Christ to come forward and accept Him.

Thursday Night at Tabernacle.
Thursday evening the colored churches of the city will attend services at the tabernacle in a body. Friday night the evangelist will speak on Heaven and on Saturday night on Hell.

HIGH FALLS.

High Falls, Jan. 27.—Mrs. Hutchins and daughters, the Misses Mary and Dorothy Hutchins, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Church one evening this week.

Preston Church went to Kingston on Wednesday with a load of hay.

Miss Edna Freer, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Richard Purvis of Kingston, returned home on Monday.

Joseph Morgan, one of the teachers in Moran's School, was in this place on business on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Goetcheus were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Church on Thursday evening.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank Johnston of Kingston were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Quick on Wednesday evening.

On their way home just as they were nearing the High Falls station their car burned out. All of the instruments he had with him were destroyed, causing quite a loss besides the damage to the car. The car, however, was insured.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Krom gave a dance in St. John's Hall on Thursday evening of this week. There were a large number present.

A number of people from out of town came in to attend recitals. These examinations were held at the High Falls public school on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

Mrs. Floyd Schoonmaker, who has been home for a short time, has returned to Poughkeepsie.

The young people of the place are preparing to give a play. The title of the play is "Mrs. Briggs's Poultry Yard." The cast of characters in the play is as follows: Mrs. Briggs, a woman of business, Miss Fay Reynolds; her family, Ralph, Jesse Barnhart; Jimmy, Harold Reynolds; Alvin, Sylvia Reynolds; Melissa, Sallie Reynolds; Silas Green, a near relation, J. MacCausland; Mr. Lee, a wealthy neighbor, John B. Snyder; Virginia Lee, his daughter, Miss Theda Gillespie; Daisy Thornton, her friend, Miss Ruth Barnhart; Mrs. O'Connor, with no liking for goats, Miss Alta Brodhead; Mandy Bates, whose tongue will stumble, Miss Elizabeth Freer; Mrs. Briggs of the Poultry Yard is a comedy in three acts. Act I—Living room in Mrs. Briggs's cottage. Mrs. Briggs is washing. Act II—Same scene; Mrs. Briggs is ironing. Act III—Mrs. Briggs's poultry yard. Chickens bought, sold and made to order. This play is full of fun from beginning to end and promises to afford great amusement to all who will come and enjoy it.

WHITFIELD.
Whitfield, Jan. 29.—W. Quick of Lefever Falls visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Quick, on Sunday last. Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Hoornbeck spent a day at this place on Saturday last.

Nearly all the ice houses at this place are filled with fine ice from nearby dams.

A nice social gathering was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. U. Harley on Tuesday evening, consisting mostly of young people. A large and beautiful lily was removed to an adjoining room to give them plenty of space for dancing and other amusements. Mrs. Harley made the remark: "If it was not for my nervous disarrangement I could imagine I was only eighteen years of age when I saw the good time they were having."

John J. Markle attended the auction at Accord at the home of James Chase. His death occurred a few days since with some complications not learned. He was highly respected by all who knew him.

Secundus Hendrickson is not gaining very much at this time. His mother is at the home of Mrs. Markle.

Fred Zeaman has some rheumatic trouble which seems hard to overcome.

Panama Ligns.

The lion of the Panama jungle is of two kinds—black and tawny. Full grown, he stands thirty inches high. His breast is broad, like that of a bulldog; his legs are long; his head is square, but catlike. He growls like a lion, but ends with a bark. He has never been known to attack man, but the natives of the jungle fear him. He would be a dangerous adversary at close quarters.

Birds Trained to Fish.

As hawks were trained to hunt, a peculiar species of bird was trained to fish. The bird found to be most adaptable for the purpose was the cormorant, an oceanic bird, similar to the pelican and feeding almost exclusively on fish. It is intermediate in size, between a duck and a goose, and some of the thirty species inhabiting the world have beautiful plumage which has a sheen of green, blue and purple.

Gum Arabic.

Gum arabic naturally exudes from the bark of acacia Senegal, a tree native to north Africa, though other species of acacia are drawn upon, however, yielding a slightly inferior product. Tragenanthus is from shrubs of astragalus species native to Asia. While astragalus are common in western America none of them seem to be of value for tragacanth. The most shrubby local species is A. Brauntonii.

To Della Chapin, Horace Chapin, Tillie France, Adelbert France, Lou Welck, Wilbur Van Demark, Maude Ruth Van Demark, Maude Van Demark Gaultrepp, Clarence Gaultrepp.

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication, pursuant to an order of the Honorable G. D. B. Hasbrouck, a justice of the supreme court of the state of New York, dated the 23rd day of December, 1916, and filed on the 9th day of January, 1917, with a copy of the complaint, in the office of said justice, in the county of Ulster, in the city of Kingston, in said state of New York, the original complaint having been filed in said office on the 21st day of September, 1916. The object of this action is to make a partition according to the respective rights of the parties, and if it appears at partition, cause be made without great prejudice to the owners, then for a sale of the following described property:

All that Tract or Parcel of Land, situate in the town of Olive, county of Ulster, and state of New York, at or near a place called Tongore, and is bounded as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at a chestnut tree standing against or near the south end of a ledge of rocks, and thence, or therefrom, south eighty-eight and one-half degrees east twelve chains and sixty-six links to a white oak tree corner; then north seven and one-half degrees east eleven chains and thirty-five links; then north twenty-two degrees east twelve chains to a heap of stones; then south thirty-three degrees east fourteen chains and twenty-five links to a rock oak tree standing against a ledge of rocks, marked; then south fifty-nine and one-half degrees west twenty-one chains and forty-two links to a heap of stones against the east side of a hill; then south eleven degrees west ten chains and twenty-five links to a black oak tree marked on a ledge of rocks; then along the same south thirteen degrees west five chains and eighty links to the place of beginning, containing fifty-eight acres of land, more or less.

Also another tract of land situate as aforesaid and adjoining the above described lot, at or near a place called Deer Park and is distinguished on map by lot No. 45 and is bounded and bounded as follows, viz:

Beginning at oak tree marked 44, 45 being the northwesterly corner of lot 40, 44, from thence running along the south side fifty degrees east thirty-three chains and twenty links to a stake and stone, 44, 45, then north twenty-two degrees east fourteen chains and twenty-five links to a black oak tree marked 45, then south fifty-four degrees west six chains to a white oak tree being the southwesterly corner formerly of Orange North, then along the same north eighty-eight and one-half degrees west twelve chains and twenty-five links to a ledge of rocks; then north thirteen degrees east five chains and eighty links to a rock oak tree on a ledge of rocks; then north eighty-four degrees west sixteen chains to a black oak tree; then south thirty-six degrees west one chain and fifty links to the place of beginning, containing twenty-six acres of land, more or less.

Also another tract of land situate as aforesaid and adjoining the above described lot, and is bounded as follows, viz:

Beginning where a straight line from the northwesterly side or as the line between the formerly of Orange North and James Winchell, was surveyed and established and thence, or therefrom, south eighty-eight and one-half degrees west twelve chains and twenty-five links to a ledge of rocks; then along the same north eighty-eight and one-half degrees west twelve chains and twenty-five links to the bounds of James Winchell, then along his bounds southwest to the bounds of the first described lot, and along the same and other lands to the road aforesaid, and the place of beginning, containing eleven acres of land, more or less.

Excepting and reserving out of the same eleven acres heretofore conveyed to Jacob Bolce, reference to his deed will make fully appear and by the said Jacob Bolce, conveyed to Henry Winchell, aforesaid, the same according to survey made by Courtenay, Broadhead, Esq., to be detached of the two first described lots.

Also another lot of four acres reserved by the said Henry Winchell, bounded as follows: northwesterly by the Deer Park road, and east side of the Deer Park road, to be reserved out of the first two described lots.

High School Student Who Repeats
Disgusting Remarks.

Kingston, N. Y., Jan. 29, 1917.

Dear Editor:
Will you kindly publish the following in The Freeman:
At the Saturday evening service in the Delaware Avenue Tabernacle, Mr. Peacock made the statement that he absolutely refused to talk with "the insignificant, high school pups, who are not fit to be used even as door mats." Hence I take this means of making reply to his disgusting remarks which appeared in The Freeman a few days ago.

Mr. Peacock said, "They (the high school students) could be allowed to act as a dirty low dance. Many thought that this statement had been incorrectly reported, but since the worthy gentleman has allowed this statement to stand, I think we are justified in drawing the conclusion that he at least sanctions it.

A dance is composed of the people who attend it plus the music; for if there were no people present there would be no dance. Therefore if our high school dances are dirty and low, we who attend them are "dirty and low," the chaperons who are present must be "dirty and low," and the parents who allow their sons and daughters to attend must fall under that head, for they at least give their moral and usually their financial support to the dance.

Fathers and mothers of this city, are your sons and daughters dirty and low? Fellows, are your sisters attending indecent dances? Tax-payers, are you supporting a place of vice? Are the chaperons the biggest devils of the bunch? (as Mr. Peacock said Saturday night.)

No! I maintain that our dances are clean, that the dancers conduct themselves properly and that the chaperons are highly respectable people.

Mr. Peacock also informed the public that "they can be allowed to go to a picture show and see a woman without clothes enough on to make a tail for a kite." This statement has aroused my curiosity as to when and where the board of education was invested with the power of granting us permission to attend the theater. So far as I am able to determine, the board does not or cannot exert any authority in this direction, outside of school hours, but if such is the case, I would like to have it pointed out to me in order that I may conduct myself accordingly in the future.

Mr. Peacock's particular brand of religion seems to be of a different kind than is commonly taught by the clergymen of this city. His seems to be the kind that favors retaliation or revenge. The board made it quite apparent that his (Mr. Peacock's) presence was not particularly desired at the chapel exercises. Mr. Peacock immediately responded with a thrust at the youth of the city. However, let us hope that the printer made an error in his Bible and omitted the passage, "If thine enemy smite thee on one cheek, etc."

I trust that The Freeman readers will realize that this message is prompted by the desire for fair play and that I stand for that which is right and just in our high school affairs and do most heartily resent the bitter attack made upon the seven hundred or more young people of this city.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for the space in your columns, I remain,
Sincerely yours,
A MEMBER OF THE CLASS OF '17.

(Miss Anna Moskowitz.)

New York is now threatened with another "vice" investigation. This time the affairs and conditions that exist in the Night Court for Women and the work of the District Attorney's office and the Vice Squad of the Police Department of the city are to be aired.

Miss Moskowitz's committee, established by the Church of the Ascension to help friendless women, has been charged with the acceptance of fees from women defendants of the Night Court and with the selling of bail. Its counter-charges may "tear off the lid" and reveal untold "rottenness" if Miss Moskowitz's story should be proved.

The investigation is being pressed by Miss Anna Moskowitz, chairman of the Church of the Ascension legal committee, one of the best known legal aid bureaus in New York.

Mentality of Octopl.

"There is a great deal of difference in the mental attitude of devil fishes or octopl," says Charles F. Holden in St. Nicholas. "In a tank in the Avon aquarium, which contains three or four octopl, all but one were timid. One attacked my hand, and seemed to enjoy being touched. A large California sheephead in this aquarium became so tame that it liked to be scratched about the head with a wire or stick, and followed people about the tank, especially the man who fed it. It was interesting to see it change color as the man stroked it with the wire."

Peculiarity of the Brain.

Tending to bear out the claim that the human brain is so constructed that it can bear great lulls better than lesser ones oft repeated, is the fact that a traveler in the wilds of Central Africa will face the tragedy of a surprise by savage man or beast with intelligent courage, and yet be driven to the delirium of madness by the insistent attacks of minute insects.

Would Have to Whistle.

Father and mother were in the habit of spelling some of the words when telling neighborhood news not meant for little ears to hear. One evening, shortly after little Elsie had entered each other in this manner, when Elsie piped up: "I'll soon learn to spell at school, then you'll have to whistle it!"

Book Ends.

You can make your own book ends by joining two pieces of metal or wood and then covering it with a cover made of green linen, heavily embroidered in a conventional design.

ELLENVILLE.

Ellenville, Jan. 29.—One of the most happy social events of the winter season was the reception tendered the Rev. Dr. E. E. Count by the members of the Men's Bible Class of the M. E. Sunday school with a few friends on Friday evening at the home of George F. Andrews, president of the Home Bank. Nearly a half hundred men were in the gathering which included the Rev. George H. Smith, the Rev. W. H. Moser and Dr. Count, and it is needless to add with these gentlemen present the evening gathering was a pronounced success. Following an hour or more at singing, games and pleasant talks Mr. and Mrs. Andrews served the entire company with very delicious refreshments, sandwiches, coffee, ice cream, cake, and these were enjoyed with a very delightful social intercourse. Much credit is due Alfred N. Rapp, one of the class members, for the success of the very happy evening with Dr. Count, for whom the reception was given.

The Thimble Club held a delightful meeting with Mrs. Howard B. Dutcher Friday afternoon. Following an hour or more at work the hostess served very delicious refreshments and these were enjoyed by the ladies.

The funeral of Mrs. Anna Hoonbeek Bruyn, widow of George Bruyn, who died at the home of her brother, Egbert Hoonbeek, at Wawarsing on Wednesday after an illness of some time of complications at the age of 69 years, was held from her late home Saturday afternoon and burial was made in the Fantinekill cemetery. Mrs. Bruyn was born in the town and after her marriage resided many years on the beautiful Bruyn farm at Port Hixon, now owned by Mrs. Gordon. At the time of her husband's death they resided in Ellenville. Mrs. Bruyn was a woman of many graces of character, a devout Christian, a member of the Reformed Church at Napanoch, a regular attendant when health permitted. Her father, the late John Hoonbeek, of Wawarsing, one of the staunchest men of the town. Surviving are the one brother above mentioned and a nephew, George Hoonbeek, also many friends, who will ever have her memory.

The Men's Class of the M. E. Church have arranged to hold a series of pleasant nights on Thursday of each week beginning February 1 and continuing throughout the winter. The aim of these men is toward community uplift and realizing that the central location of the M. E. Church holds peculiar advantages to this end they formulated a plan to hold this series of pleasant nights in the interest of community happiness and good fellowship. The program for Thursday evening will be "By Canoe and Caravan Through the Heart of Africa." This lecture will be fully illustrated with stereopticon views and moving picture reels of the highest character.

At the meeting of the Forum Friday evening at the high school auditorium a lecture will be given by Dr. Count, "Returned From Bulgaria." Not a repetition of the lecture given last week, but the subject will be "The War From the Balkan Point of View." Everybody will want to hear this lecture by Dr. Count.

The Men's Bible Class of the Reformed Church are planning for one of their suppers for which this class is famous, early in February. Date to be announced.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Ryan are spending a day or two in Orange county.

Miss Louise Thompson has returned to Brooklyn while her aunt, Mrs. Charles H. Hays, is spending a few days with Warden and Mrs. George Deyo at Napanoch.

George A. Mericle was missed from his usual duties as usher, (seldom ever absent), at the M. E. Church on Sunday. The reason explained, at home with a severe attack of grip.

School will resume work Monday after a week's vacation to all who did not have regents examinations.

Mrs. Rose H. Eaton entertained the members of the Whist Club Saturday afternoon. Following the games the hostess served delicious refreshments which were enjoyed with a social hour.

Miss Alice Brown, a student at the Albany State Normal College, is spending a ten days' vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown.

Mrs. Laura M. Webb and Miss Katherine E. Morse of New York, who were in Kingston for the funeral of Mrs. E. E. Lockwood, came on to Ellenville to spend a few days with their sisters, Mrs. A. V. Keeler and Mrs. George J. Hoonbeek.

The ladies of the Y. C. L. A. of the Lutheran Church will have an old fashioned German supper in the annex of the church Thursday evening from 5 o'clock. All good German dishes. Price 35 cents. Everybody invited to come.

The Singing Circle of the Lutheran Church will be entertained by Mrs. Philip Schaffer Tuesday afternoon.

The Rev. R. H. Travis, D. D., a former pastor of the M. E. Church, and Mrs. Julia Hammond of New York are to be married by Bishop Luther B. Wilson on Tuesday, January 30, and reside at 46 Charlton street. Dr. Travis expects to return to Duane Church, New York, for another year. Ellenville friends extend hearty congratulations to the doctor and his bride.

Electric Screwdriver.

An electric screwdriver is said to be a great time-saver where any considerable part of the workman's time is taken up in driving screws. In the construction of the tool a friction clutch with a spring release is provided, so that when the pressure is released the driving bit does not revolve, but the motor continues in operation.

In Appreciation.

Mr. Walter E. Mitchell and Mr. Elmer D. Lockwood wish to express their sincere thanks for the many expressions of sympathy and kindness shown during the illness of our dear daughter and beloved wife, who departed this world January 24, 1917.

POULTRY

WINTER REVENUE FROM HENS

First Essential is Proper Quarters for Fowls—Dry Leaves Make Ideal Scratching Material.

A scarcity of eggs in winter is a loss that every true poultry keeper tries to avoid. Being the only source of revenue expected from the flock at this time of the year, everyone is anxious to have a good supply, and with proper care and feed, satisfactory results can reasonably be expected.

Proper quarters in which to house the hens is the first and foremost necessary essential. The house should be kept clear of dirt and rubbish, and the nests sweet and clean. A cold dry hen house provided it is free from drafts, is to be preferred to a damp, warm one, as the latter is sure to bring disease to your flock.

In the dust bath—which must always be provided in winter—should be mixed reliable louse powder, to keep hens free from vermin. A louse-infested fowl positively won't lay and is a losing proposition, always.

Make the hens work for every single bit of food they get in winter. It will prevent them becoming too fat and helps keep up a vigorous circulation, preventing a chilled and shivering fowl.

Hot food in winter is imperative; every morning and night it should be fed piping hot. In the morning feed a dry mash, made by boiling small potatoes, beets, turnips, vegetable parings and the like, thickened with bran or other middlings. This mash should be fed in clean troughs, placed high enough to make the hens hustle to reach them. Hens delight to scratch in a litter of dry leaves and it makes the most ideal scratch-material. Small grain generously scattered in a deep litter of leaves will keep the flock happily busy and contented the whole day through.

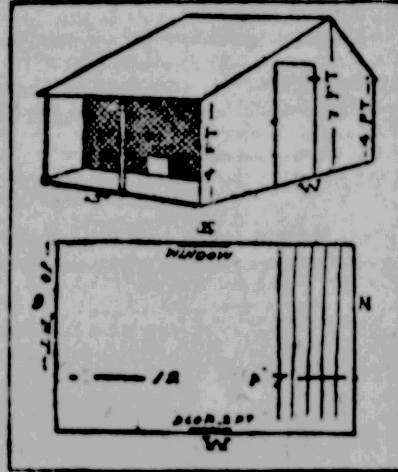

For the last feed in the day corn is the most satisfactory, imparting the heat so necessary for the well-being of the fowl during the cold, bitter winter nights. The best way to feed corn is to place it in the oven on the cob and leave it until it is baked a nice delicate brown. The savory odor of baked corn is very appetizing, and when the ears are cut up in short lengths and fed thus to the fowls it will keep them busy to pick up the grains.

Water must be provided in abundance. Of course, it is a difficult matter to keep water before the hens in zero weather, when it freezes almost as soon as it is put out, but you must provide it often enough to insure each fowl getting its full share.

WINTER QUARTERS FOR HENS

House Described and Illustrated That Accommodates Fifty White Leghorns Comfortably.

I believe I have the best henhouse for health, comfort and capacity, cost considered. I have kept 50 White Leghorns in it for the last four winters and never had a frozen comb, nor a case of roup, writes F. R. Campbell of Nebraska in Missouri Valley Farmer. The house is 10 feet wide, 12 feet deep, 4 feet high at the eaves and 7 at the ridge. There is a 12-inch board at the bottom in the open end and under the west door so that no litter is wasted.

House and Floor Plan.

A piece of 1-inch mesh wire netting is needed on the south side. The window on the east side may be removed during the summer for ventilation. The roof is covered with patent roofing costing $1.10 a square, and there are absolutely no open cracks for drafts on either side except the south. Once or twice a week a forkful of millet or alfalfa is thrown in to the hens and wheat or oats scattered over this every morning. The hens are busy the coldest days. When a strong south wind comes up the windows and doors are closed. Once a month I take out the roosts and nests which are nail kegs, and spray with coal oil. The low roof confines the body heat developed and keeps the hens warm, at the same time being high enough for an attendant to do his work.

Distance Lends Enchantment.

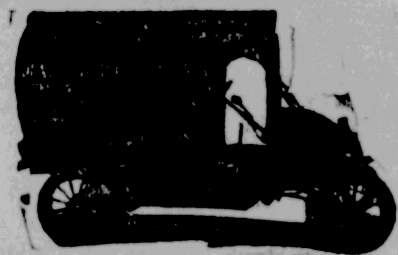

She—"Do you think it will be all right for us after we are married to settle a couple of squares away from my family?" He—"I was going to say a couple of states."

YOUNG ATHLETES AT Y. M. C. A.

Saturday morning an athletic contest for the boys of Student C class was held at the Y. M. C. A. and eight boys passed three of four athletic events and will be awarded buttons. The boys who will receive the buttons are Arthur Thompson, Tom Rowland, Chris. Messinger, James Carey, Douglas, O'Shea, Teller and Merwin Garrison.

The Midgrets also held an athletic contest Saturday and the following boys will receive buttons: Eric Brown, Floyd Burger, Blake, Maher, Leveritt, Johnson, Eckert, Dederick, Robert Clark, Ebel, Gaddis and LeFever.

On Friday the members of Student A held a contest and Charles Whittaker and Harold Garrison won three out of the four events. This was the first of a series of three athletic events for that class.

Two games were played in the Grammar School Basketball League, having won 5 and lost 3 games. The results Saturday: St. Peter's School 8, No. 5, 16; School No. 3, 9; School No. 2, 34.

The senior leaders will hold an important meeting on Tuesday evening at the association.

Ice Cutting Machine Tried Out.

Friday afternoon at Athens a demonstration of the new motor-driven ice cutting machine, made by a concern in Waltham, Mass., was tried out on the field of the Arrow Ice Company, and seemed to prove satisfactory. The machine is driven by a 25 horse power motor which operates a circular saw, capable of cutting 12 inch ice. Further tryouts will be made of the machine. It is claimed it will do away with the use of four horses and as many men.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAMS WIN TWO GAMES

Saturday afternoon the high school gymnasium was open for a double header in basketball. The first games finished was between the Monticello girls and the Kingston girls' varsity. Both teams naturally were very desirous of the victory and the playing was more than spirited.

The visiting team consisted of five sturdy little ladies whose ability far overshadowed their size. The fact that they had once been beaten this year on their own court by the maroon and white misses did not for a moment quell their spirits but made them play a defensive game and kept the home team from accumulating a large score.

The Kingston lassies went in and, like a machine, ground out their usual victory. The guards, especially, put spirit in the game and "Honey" Wood took on a win or die expression, got up considerable momentum and the visitors in a spirit of safety first stepped aside to let her pass. Faith Safford continued supreme in the matter of scoring, but was unable to make as many foul baskets as usual, only because there were but three called on the visitors and two on the home team. The line up was as follows:

Dinner to the Visiting Team.

The same girls who won the game from the fast Monticello team without any great difficulty, also prepared a splendid dinner or "spread" for the visitors and with true hospitality served the same at school at one o'clock. Thanks to the "dom sci." department's efficient training these young feminine athletes prepared the following menu with little effort and great success:

Tomato Bisque
Saladines
Salmon Croquettes au jus
Baked Potatoes on half shell
Salad
Raspberry Ice
Assorted Cakes
Coffee
Lemonade

The girls carried out their favorite and patriotic color scheme of maroon and white. The croquettes were served in a white sauce, and the potatoes, salad, cakes and dessert all had a simple and appetizing touch of maroon or dark red, relish served on the plate with them.

Midgrets Play First Team Men.

The Midgret team of K. H. S. had a pleasant afternoon also. When their victims first arrived the boys wearing the maroon jerseys were decidedly down in the mouth because the aggregation that wore the tans for Hudson were mostly larger than the men on our first team.

Realizing the injustice to the Midgrets of Kingston, the local line was somewhat changed so that not only the Midgret captain, but also Captain Joyce was also on the boards, while John Dwyer came back to life as a Midgret.

Everyone of the forty minutes of the game were precious and at half time Kingston led by a score of 18 to 16, and three minutes before the game closed the score was 28 to 29 in the local's favor.

In the first half it was necessary for Krehner to shoot from the middle of the court and he started by making as pretty a basket as one could hope to see made. Schoonmaker's score tells its own story and it's a good story too. Joyce saved the Midgrets by making his three baskets just before the game closed.

Julia Culp

Culp's gifted art in "Passing By"

In the singing of a song like this one the sheer beauty of Julia Culp's voice, and the sincerity, earnestness and quaint simplicity of her art, are indeed irresistible. "Passing By" is a charming song from the pen of the English composer, Edward Parcell. The melody is as tender as the words, the indescribable essence of which is contained in the closing lines, "But change the earth, or change the sky, Yet will I love her till I die." You owe it to your love of music to hear Culp sing this song.

Favorite numbers from "The Mikado"

Eleven of the perennially popular songs from this great Gilbert and Sullivan opera are here given an orchestral presentation by the Victor Concert Orchestra. Here is a record sure of a host of admirers the country over, not only on account of the universally admired music of "The Mikado," but because of the interesting contrast of the selections recorded, and the exceptionally fine orchestration by the Victor musicians.

PEACOCK SCORED.

High School Student Who Resents
Disgusting Remarks.

Kingston, N. Y., Jan. 29, 1917.

Dear Editor:

Will you kindly publish the following in The Freeman:

At the Saturday evening service in the Delaware Avenue Tabernacle, Mr. Peacock made the statement that he absolutely refused to talk with "the insignificant, high school pups, who are not fit to be used even as door mats." Hence I take this means of making reply to his disgusting remarks which appeared in The Freeman a few days ago.

Mr. Peacock said, "They, (the high school students) could be allowed to put on a dirty low dance." Many thought that this statement had been incorrectly reported, but since the worthy gentleman has allowed this statement to stand, I think we are justified in drawing the conclusion that he at least sanctions it.

A dance is composed of the people who attend it plus the music; for if there were no people present there would be no dance. Therefore if our high school dances are dirty and low, we who attend them are "dirty and low"; the chaperons who are present must be "dirty and low," and the parents who allow their sons and daughters to attend must fall under that head, for they at least give their moral and usually their financial support to the dance.

Fathers and mothers of this city, are your sons and daughters dirty and low? Fellow, are your sisters attending indecent dances? Taxpayers, are you supporting a place of vice? Are the chaperons the biggest devils of the bunch? (as Mr. Peacock said Saturday night.)

No! I maintain that our dances are clean, that the dancers conduct themselves properly and that the chaperons are highly respectable people.

Mr. Peacock also informed the public that "they can be allowed to go to a picture show and see a woman without clothes enough on to make a tail for a kite." This statement has aroused my curiosity as to when and where the board of education was invested with the power of granting us permission to attend the theater. So far as I am able to determine, the board does not or cannot exert any authority in this direction, outside of school hours, but if such is the case, I would like to have it pointed out to me in order that I may conduct myself accordingly in the future.

Mr. Peacock's particular brand of religion seems to be of a different kind than is commonly taught by the clergymen of this city. His religion is the kind that favors retaliation or revenge. The board made it quite apparent that his (Mr. Peacock's) presence was not particularly desired at the chapel exercises. Mr. Peacock immediately responded with a thrust at the youth of the city. However, let us hope that the printer made an error in his title and omitted the passage, "If this enemy smite thee on one cheek, etc."

I trust that The Freeman readers will realize that this message is prompted by the desire for fair play and that I stand for that which is right and just in our high school affairs and do most heartily resent the bitter attack made upon the seven members of the board of education of this city.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for the space in your column, I remain, Sincerely yours,

A MEMBER OF THE CLASS OF '17.

MISS ANNA MOSKOWITZ

CHURCH LEGAL COMMITTEE, ACCUSED OF VICE PROFIT, TO DEMAND INVESTIGATION OF N. Y. NIGHT COURT.

(Miss Anna Moskowitz.)

New York is now threatened with another "vice" investigation. This time the affairs and conditions that exist in the Night Court for Women and the work of the District Attorney's office and the Vice Squad of the Police Department of the city are to be aired.

Miss Moskowitz's committee, established by the Church of the Ascension to help friendless women, has been charged with the acceptance of fees from women defendants of the Night Court and with the selling of bail. Its counter-charges may "tear off the lid" and reveal unthought-of "rottenness" if Miss Moskowitz's story should be proved. The investigation is being pressed by Miss Anna Moskowitz, chairman of the Church of the Ascension legal committee, one of the best known legal aid bureaus in New York.

BRIDGE OVER HUDSON MAY BE PART OF PLAN OF ROCKEFELLER JR.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., may bridge the Hudson and connect the Interstate Park with the park system of New York city.

Tryon Hall, the great Billings estate, at the north end of Manhattan Island, for which Mr. Rockefeller paid $3,000,000 recently, is intended for the city terminal. It is reported, Mentality of Octopl.

"There is a great deal of difference in the mental attitude of devil fishes or octopl," says Charles F. Holden in St. Nicholas. "In a tank in the Aquarium, which contains three or four octopl, all but one were timid. One attacked my hand, and seemed to enjoy being touched. A large California sheephead in this aquarium became so tame that it liked to be scratched about the head with a wire or stick, and followed people about the tank, especially the man who fed it. It was interesting to see it change color as the man stroked it with the wire."

Peculiarity of the Brain.
Tending to bear out the claim that the human brain is so constructed that it can bear great ills better than lesser ones oft repeated, is the fact that a traveler in the wilds of Central Africa will face the tragedy of a surprise by savage man or beast with intelligent courage, and yet be driven to the delirium of madness by the insistent attacks of minute insects.

Would Have to Whistle.
Father and mother were in the habit of spelling some of the words when telling neighborhood news not meant for little ears to hear. One evening, shortly after little Elsie had entered the kindergarten, they were talking to each other in this manner, when Elsie piped up: "I'll soon learn to spell at school, then you'll have to whistle it!"

Book Ends.
You can make your own book ends by joining two pieces of metal or wood and then covering it with a cover made of green linen, heavily embroidered in a conventional design.

ELLENVILLE.

Ellenville, Jan. 29.—One of the most happy social events of the winter season was the reception tendered the Rev. Dr. E. E. Count by the members of the Men's Bible Class of the M. E. Sunday school, with a few friends on Friday evening at the home of George F. Andrews, president of the Home Bank. Nearly a half hundred men were in the gathering which included the Rev. George H. Smith, the Rev. W. H. Moser and Dr. Count, and it is needless to add with these gentlemen present the evening gathering was a pronounced success. Following an hour or more at singing, games and pleasant talks Mr. and Mrs. Andrews served the entire company with very delicious refreshments, sandwiches, coffee, ice cream, cake, and these were enjoyed with a very delightful social intercourse. Much credit is due Alfred N. Rapp, one of the class members, for the success of the very happy evening with Dr. Count, for whom the reception was given.

The Thimble Club held a delightful meeting with Mrs. Howard B. Dutcher Friday afternoon. Following an hour or more at work the hostesses served very delicious refreshments and these were enjoyed by the ladies.

The funeral of Mrs. Anna Hoornbeek Bruyn, widow of George Bruyn, who died at the home of her brother, Egbert Hoornbeek, at Wawarsing on Wednesday after an illness of some time of complications at the age of 69 years, was held from her late home Saturday afternoon and burial was made in the Pantituckill cemetery. Mrs. Bruyn was born in the town and after her marriage resided many years on the beautiful Bruyn farm at Port Hixon, now owned by Mrs. Gordon. At the time of her husband's death they resided in Ellenville. Mrs. Bruyn was a woman of many graces of character, a devout Christian, a member of the Reformed Church at Napanoch, a regular attendant when health permitted. Her father, the late Jolt Hoornbeek of Wawarsing, one of the staunchest men of the town. Surviving are the one brother above mentioned and a nephew, George Hoornbeek, also many friends, who will ever revere her memory.

The Men's Class of the M. E. Church have arranged to hold a series of pleasant nights on Thursday of each week beginning February 1 and continuing throughout the winter. The aim of these men is toward community uplift and realizing that the central location of the M. E. Church holds peculiar advantages to this end they formulated a plan to hold this series of pleasant nights in the interest of community happiness and good fellowship. The program for Thursday evening will be "By Canoe and Caravan Through the Heart of Africa." This lecture will be fully illustrated with stereopticon views and moving picture reels of the highest character.

At the meeting of the Forum Friday evening at the high school auditorium a lecture will be given by Dr. Count, "Returned From Bulgaria." Not a repetition of the lecture given last week, but the subject will be "The War From the Balkan Point of View." Everybody will want to hear this lecture by Dr. Count.

The Men's Bible Class of the Reformed Church are planning for one of their suppers for which this class is famous, early in February. Date to be announced.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Ryan are spending a day or two in Orange county.

Miss Louise Thompson has returned to Brooklyn while her aunt, Mrs. Charles H. Hays, is spending a few days with Warden and Mrs. George Deyo at Napanoch.

George A. Mericle was missed from his usual duties as usher (seated over absent) at the M. E. Church on Sunday. The reason explained, at home with a severe attack of grip.

School will resume work Monday after a week's vacation to all who did not have regents examinations.

Mrs. Rose H. Eaton entertained the members of the Whist Club Saturday afternoon. Following the games the hostess served delicious refreshments which were enjoyed with a social hour.

Miss Alice Brown, a student at the Albany State Normal College, is spending a ten days' vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown.

Mrs. Laura M. Webb and Miss Katherine E. Morse of New York, who were in Kingston for the funeral of Mrs. E. E. Lockwood, came on to Ellenville to spend a few days with their sisters, Mrs. A. V. Keeler and Mrs. George J. Hoornbeek.

The ladies of the Y. C. L. A. of the Lutheran Church will have an old fashioned German supper in the annex of the church Thursday evening from 5 o'clock. All good German dishes. Price 5 cents. Everybody invited to come.

The Spring Circle of the Lutheran Church will be entertained by Mrs. Philip Schaeffer Tuesday afternoon.

The Rev. R. H. Travis, D. D., a former pastor of the M. E. Church, and Mrs. Julia Hammond of New York are to be married by Bishop Luther B. Wilson on Tuesday, January 30, and reside at 46 Charlton street. Dr. Travis expects to return to Duane Church, New York, for another year. Ellenville friends extend hearty congratulations to the doctor and his bride.

Electric Screwdriver.

An electric screwdriver is said to be a great time-saver where any considerable part of the workman's time is taken up in driving screws. In the construction of the tool a friction clutch with a spring release is provided, so that when the pressure is released the driving bit does not revolve, but the motor continues in operation.

In Appreciation.

Mr. Walter E. Mitchell and Mr. Elmer D. Lockwood wish to express their sincere thanks for the many expressions of sympathy and kindness shown during the illness of our dear daughter and beloved wife, who departed this world January 24, 1917. —Advertisement.

POULTRY

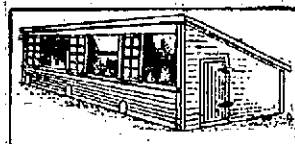

WINTER REVENUE FROM HENS

First Essential is Proper Quarters for Fowls—Dry Leaves Make Ideal Scratching Material.

A scarcity of eggs in winter is a loss that every true poultry keeper tries to avoid. Being the only source of revenue expected from the flock at this time of the year, everyone is anxious to have a good supply, and with proper care and feed, satisfactory results can reasonably be expected.

Proper quarters in which to house the hens is the first and foremost necessary essential. The house should be kept clear of dirt and rubbish, and the nests sweet and clean. A cold dry hen house provided it is free from drafts, is to be preferred to a damp, warm one, as the latter is sure to bring disease to your flock.

In the dust bath—which must always be provided in winter—should be mixed reliable louse powder, to keep hens free from vermin. A louse-infested fowl positively won't lay and is a losing proposition, always.

Make the hens work for every single bit of food they get in winter, it will prevent them becoming too fat and helps keep up a vigorous circulation, preventing a chilled and shivering fowl.

Hot food in winter is imperative; every morning and night it should be fed piping hot. In the morning feed a dry mash, made by boiling small potatoes, beets, turnips, vegetable parings and the like, thickened with bran or other middlings. This mash should be fed in clean troughs, placed high enough to make the hens hustle to reach them. Hens delight to scratch in a litter of dry leaves and it makes the most ideal scratch-material. Small grain generously scattered in a deep litter of leaves will keep the flock happily busy and contented the whole day through.

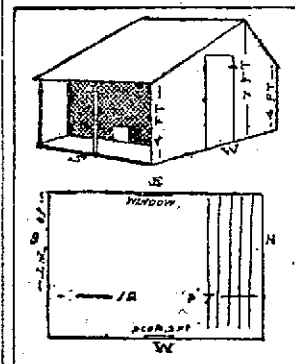

For the last feed in the day corn is the most satisfactory, imparting the heat so necessary for the well-being of the fowl during the cold, bitter winter nights. The best way to feed corn is to place it in the oven on the cob and leave it until it is baked a nice delicate brown. The savory odor of baked corn is very appetizing, and when the ears are cut up in short lengths and fed thus to the fowls it will keep them busy to pick up the grains.

Water must be provided in abundance. Of course, it is a difficult matter to keep water before the hens in zero weather, when it freezes almost as soon as it is put out but you must provide it often enough to insure each fowl getting its full share.

WINTER QUARTERS FOR HENS

House Described and Illustrated That Accommodates Fifty White Leghorns Comfortably.

I believe I have the best henhouse for health, comfort and capacity, cost considered. I have kept 50 White Leghorns in it for the last four winters and never had a frozen comb, nor a case of roup, writes F. R. Campbell of Nebraska in Missouri Valley Farmer. The house is 19 feet wide, 12 feet deep, 4 feet high at the eaves and 7 at the ridge. There is a 12-inch board at the bottom in the open end and under the west door so that no litter is wasted.

House and Floor Plan.

A piece of 1-inch mesh wire netting is needed on the south side. The window on the east side may be removed during the summer for ventilation. The roof is covered with patent roofing costing $1.10 a square, and there are absolutely no open cracks for drafts on either side except the south. Once or twice a week a forkful of millet or alfalfa is thrown in to the hens and wheat or oats scattered over this every morning. The hens are busy the cold days. When a strong south wind comes up the windows and doors are closed. Once a month I take out the roosts and nests which are nail kegs, and spray with coal oil. The low roof confines the body heat developed and keeps the hens warm, at the same time being high enough for an attendant to do his work.

SHOOTING UNSEEN BY MRS. ELMENDORF

Mrs. Elmendorf, wife of Charles Elmendorf, for whose death Joseph Weber is now on trial, did not see the act committed which resulted in the death of her husband, according to her testimony this morning while on the witness stand. After Joseph Weber had fired the shot gun at her, Mrs. Elmendorf and Mrs. Harrick, who were seated upon the porch of the Elmendorf house, Mrs. Elmendorf ran into the house.

The first witness called this morning was County Superintendent of Highways James F. Louckman, who had made a preliminary investigation of the case introduced in evidence on Friday and certain corrections were made and the addition placed in evidence.

Officer Hess testified that he was on the scene of the crime a few minutes after the shooting and testified to arriving at the scene in the neighborhood of 5:20 and when he arrived Dr. O'Meara was already there. Elmendorf was lying in the street with his head upon the curb when the officer arrived. With the help of Officer Hess and Mr. Brown the injured man was placed in the car of Harry Egan and conveyed to the hospital.

While on the way to the hospital Elmendorf did not gain consciousness and just as the automobile arrived at the Benedictine Sanitarium Elmendorf began to vomit. He was taken out of the automobile and taken into the basement of the hospital. In the automobile which conveyed Elmendorf to the hospital were Harry Egan, driving, Officer Hess, Harry Brown and Fred O'Meara.

After arriving at the Sanitarium Elmendorf was taken in charge by the nurse and when Dr. O'Meara arrived he asked Officer Hess to see Elmendorf and try to get a statement from him but this the officer was unable to do as Elmendorf remained unconscious.

Upon cross examination Officer Hess testified that a half hour after being admitted to the hospital Elmendorf was in the same condition as when received and nothing had been done in preparing him for an operation and while in the room for perhaps two minutes of saw no motion in the room.

After this Officer Hess left to report at the city hall.

Mrs. Elmendorf called.

Mrs. Elmendorf, widow of the deceased, was next called. She is at present living in New York City, on 143rd street.

Mrs. Elmendorf testified to the distance between her house and the Weber house as about 40 feet, and said she had lived on Sander avenue for about six years prior to August 1 when the affair took place.

Mrs. Elmendorf's testimony was practically the same as she gave before the recorder when the case was brought up there for a hearing.

Mrs. Elmendorf with Mrs. Harrick and Mrs. Halstead and their children were seated on the front porch the day before the shooting, and the Elmendorf boy, George and Teddy Halstead were playing football in the street. They had two big trees in the yard and the children were to stick to the trees and had been playing for some time when Weber came out of his house, passed the house and caught his trousers on one of the fish hooks attached to the railing.

Weber stopped and said, "That is a damn nice thing to have here to tear a person's pants" and after remarking the hook he wound up the fishing line and took it back home and in a short time came out and went on down the street.

At the same time the Weber children were also playing football. They had a number of logs in a pile of water near their house.

Weber Appears Armed.

The next time Mrs. Elmendorf saw Weber was when he came around the corner of his house on the following day with his gun and walked down the street a short distance and fired at the people seated on the Elmendorf porch. This was about supper time according to Mrs. Elmendorf's best recollection and at the time she with her children were seated on the porch with Mrs. Elmendorf and Mrs. Harrick and their children.

After firing the shot which scattered and struck Mrs. Elmendorf to the side, back, arm and ankle she ran into the house calling to her husband and as she went into the house Charles came out from the kitchen where he had been eating and that was the last she saw of him until she saw him at the hospital.

Photographs of the Elmendorf property were shown and also photographs locating the other houses in the vicinity. Mrs. Elmendorf was asked to locate on the big map prepared by Mr. Louckman where Weber stood when he fired the shot and she indicated the spot.

Weber Said Nothing.

Either before shooting or after firing the shot, according to Mrs. Elmendorf's recollection, Weber did not say anything.

When Mrs. Elmendorf was shot she ran into the house and did not see anything which occurred later. According to her testimony she ran about the house and into nearly every room in the house and finally fell exhausted. She did not look out of the house after entering immediately after the gun was fired.

On cross examination Mrs. Elmendorf said she was born in Montreal, N. J., and her mother had come from Virginia.

On the day in August when Weber caught himself on the fish line the children had been playing in the street for some time with the fish lines and this had been the first time that they had done so.

A few minutes before the shooting Mrs. Elmendorf and Mrs. Harrick left the front porch and went into the house. Mrs. Harrick to prepare supper and Mrs. Elmendorf to attend to the ice man who had left her. During the time they were in the house Weber came up the street and went home.

House Well Armed.

"Did you have any firearms in the house on August 5 when this affair took place?" asked Mr. Brooks.

"Yes, we had a 22 rifle in the kitchen."

"Is that all?"

"No, we had a shotgun over the door in the front room. Charlie said it was a repeater, and we had a repeating rifle in the back room."

DEED.

volver on the sideboard in the dining room.

The rifle had been used by Mrs. Elmendorf and the revolver was used on the Fourth of July to help celebrate but Mrs. Elmendorf knew nothing of the shotgun except what she had been told by her husband.

On re-direct examination District Attorney Traver brought out the fact that Elmendorf did not have anything in his hands when he came out of the house in response to his wife's repeated calls for help.

Court took recess at noon until 2 o'clock when the case was continued.

Champion Would be Free.

Application was made to Judge Jenkins at county court chambers today for the discharge from custody of Harry G. Champion, who was committed to jail several days ago from the town of Lloyd for failure to furnish a bond after he had been arrested in connection with the shooting of Charles Elmendorf.

It appeared from the statements made by counsel that Champion had been paying considerable attention to the sixteen year old sister of the complainant. The complainant is said to be mentally deficient. The town regards Champion's incarceration in jail as punishment, the same as in a criminal action, and does not think he has been in jail long enough.

The purpose of the motion, however, it was urged, is not to mete out punishment as in criminal matters, but to require support. Judge Jenkins reserved decision. Joseph M. McCabe of Poughkeepsie appeared for Champion, with Andrew J. Cook of counsel. Solomon G. Carpenter appeared for the overseer of the poor of the town of Lloyd.

Bill says the hope was so soothing and so original that he did not get the player out of the game.

WABBLE OF SHOOTER'S KNEES

Close Scrutiny Will Indicate Whether Man is Seasoned Sport or Just Beginning.

The popular detective of fiction, Sherlock Holmes, once admitted that a man's knees were the seat of great enlightenment, and from this source he drew many of his deductions.

It is interesting, therefore, to scrutinize a trapshooter's knees while he is in action. Do they wobble not? He is a seasoned shooter in good physical condition. Do they wobble? He is anxious, perhaps a little new at the game, but so happy and willing to get that next target he cares little whether the sun shines or the equinoctial is on.

It is a fascinating sport without placing strain on the nervous system; in fact, trapshooting steadies the nerves. It combines sport with fresh air and sunshine and saves many physicians' bills.

Physicians and nurses recommend the sport as a health tonic, and if the patients follow the advice given there will not be much need for the physician and the nurse.

TO HELP BATTING

Business of devising ways and means to help batting is the National league seems to be occupying the moment. Here are a few suggestions:

Equip the infielders with boxing gloves.

Tag the outfielders with a ball and chain.

Make Grover Alexander shoot 'em from the port side.

Have Dick Rudolph recite "Curfew Shall Not Ring To-night" while delivering the ball.

Mount Jeff Pfeffer on roller skates on his pitching days.

YOUNG ATHLETES AT Y. M. C. A.

Saturday morning an athletic contest for the boys of Student C class was held at the Y. M. C. A. and eight boys passed three of four athletic events and will be awarded buttons. The boys who will receive the buttons are Arthur Thompson, Tom Rowland, Chris Messinger, James Carey, Douglas, O'Shea, Teller and Merwin Garvin.

The Midgels also held an athletic contest Saturday and the following boys will receive buttons: Eric Brown, Floyd Burger, Blake, Maher, Leveritt, Johnson, Eckert, Dederick, Robert Clark, Emil, Gaudis and Le Peter.

On Friday the members of Student A held a contest and Charles Whittaker and Harold Garrison won three of the four events. This was the first of a series of three athletic events for that class.

Two games were played in the Grammar School Basketball League. School No. 2 still leads the league, having won 5 and lost 3 games. The results Saturday: St. Peter's School 8, No. 5, 16; School No. 3, 0; School No. 2, 34.

The senior leaders will hold an important meeting on Tuesday evening at the association.

Ice Cutting Machine Tied Out.

Friday afternoon at Athens a demonstration of the new motor-driven ice cutting machine, made by a concern in Waltham, Mass., was tied out on the field of the Arrow Ice Company, and seemed to prove satisfactory. The machine is driven by a 25 horse power motor which operates a circular saw, capable of cutting 12 inch ice. Further trials will be made of the machine. It is claimed it will do away with the use of four horses and as many men.

Successful Fishermen.

Lieut. Leroy Cashin, Abel Abernethy and George Wilson have returned from a fishing trip with a fine catch of fish.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAMS WIN TWO GAMES

Saturday afternoon the high school gymnasium was open for a double header in basketball. The first game finished was between the Monticello girls and the Kingston girls' varsity. Both teams naturally were very desirous of the victory and the playing was more than spirited.

The visiting team consisted of five sturdy little ladies whose ability far overshadowed their size. The fact that they had once been beaten this year on their own court by the maroon and white misses did not for a moment quell their spirits but made them play a defensive game and keep the home team from accumulating a large score.

The Kingston lasses went in and, like a machine, ground out their usual victory. The guards, especially, put spirit in the game and "Honey" Wood took on a war or die expression, got up considerable momentum and the visitors in a spirit of safety first stepped aside to let her pass. Faith Safford continued supreme in the matter of scoring, but was unable to make as many foul baskets as usual, only because there were but three called on the visitors and two on the home team. The line up was as follows:

Monticello H. S.	F. B.	F. P.	T. P.
McKater, R.	0	0	0
McLaughlin, M.	2	0	4

Dinner to the Visiting Team.

The same girls who won the game from the last Monticello team without any great difficulty, also prepared a splendid dinner or "spread" for the visitors and with true hospitality served the same at school at one o'clock. Thanks to the "dom sci." department's efficient training these young feminine athletes prepared the following menu with little effort and great success:

- Tomato Bisque
- Salad
- Salmon Croquettes au jus
- Baked Potatoes on half shell
- Salad
- Raspberry Ice
- Assorted Cakes
- Coffee
- Lemonade

The girls carried out their favorite and patriotic color scheme of maroon and white. The croquettes were served in a white sauce and the potatoes, salad, cakes and dessert all had a simple and appetizing touch of maroon or dark red, relish served on the plate with them.

Midgels Play First Team Men.

The maroon team of K. H. S. and a pleasant afternoon also. When their victims first arrived the boys wearing the maroon jerseys were decidedly down in the mouth because the aggregation that wore the tops for Hudson were mostly larger than the men on our first team.

Realizing the injustice to the Midgels of Kingston, the local line was somewhat changed so that not only the Midgel captain, but also Captain Joyce was also on the boards, while John Dwyer came back to life as a Midgel.

Everyone of the forty minutes of the game were precious and at a half time Kingston led by a score of 15 to 16, and three minutes before the game closed the score was 28 to 29 in the local's favor.

McCormack's new song of a lover

Tito Mattei, an Italian composer of lovely songs, has provided John McCormack with the melodic vehicle he employs this month for the display of his fine voice and his finer understanding. "It's not True" is the song McCormack sings, it being the plaintive protest of a lover upon discovering that love is fickle. This admirable artist adapts himself with rare appreciation to the song's mood, and sings the smooth-flowing melody of its plaint with great appeal of voice and spirit.

Culp's gifted art in "Passing By"

In the singing of a song like this one the sheer beauty of John Culp's voice, and the sincerity, earnestness and quaint simplicity of her art, are indeed irresistible. "Passing By" is a charming song from the pen of the English composer, Edward Purcell. The melody is as tender as the words, the indescribable essence of which is contained in the closing lines, "But change the earth, or change the sky, Yet will I love her till I die." You owe it to your love of music to hear Culp sing this song.

Favorite numbers from "The Mikado"

Eleven of the perennially popular songs from this great Gilbert and Sullivan opera are here given an orchestral presentation by the Victor Concert Orchestra. Here is a record sure of a host of admirers the country over, not only on account of the universally admitted music of "The Mikado," but because of the interesting contrast of the selections recorded, and the exceptionally fine orchestration by the Victor musicians.

OPPENHEIMER BROS.

Camel CIGARETTES

win smokers because they find the blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos so refreshing; because they appreciate the absence of any unpleasant cigarette after-taste!

Camels are pure and wholesome and you'll prefer this blend flavor to either kind of tobacco smoked straight. And the quality is so apparent men do not look for or expect coupons or premiums!

Once you know the delightful mellow-mild-smoothness of Camels—and how liberally you can smoke them without a come-back—you'll choose them against any cigarette at any price!

Camels are sold everywhere in scientifically sealed packages, 20 for 10c; or ten packages (200 cigarettes) in a glassine-paper-covered carton for $1.00. We strongly recommend this carton for the home or office supply or when you travel.
